GOERING AND KESSELRING ARE CAPTURED

ONCE SECOND RANKING NAZI SURRENDERS

Fat Reichs Marshal Says He Was Seized By Germans April 27 and Ordered Executed

REPORTS HITLER DEATH

By A. I. GOLDBERG

Sixth Army Group Headquarters, May 9—(AP)—Herman Goering, once the second ranking Nazi, was captured last night by the American Seventh Army and declared today that he had been arrested by the Germans on orders of Hitler because he wanted to conclude a surrender.

The fat Reichsmarshal said he was seized by the Germans on April 27, held at Berchtesgaden and ordered executed. He last saw Hitler on April 22 in Berlin, he asserted.

He said he believed Hitler died on April 27 or 28.

Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, German commander on the western front until March, also was captured.

Gen. Ritter von Epp, erstwhile defender of Munich and governor of Bavaria, also was captured by the 36th Division. He was one of the original Nazis.

The 101st Airborne Division captured Lt. Gen. Berger in a mass surrender of Waffen SS troops near Reifing.

Goering surrendered personally to Brig. Gen. Robert Stack, assistant commander of the Texas (36th) Division, which also captured Field Marshal von Rundstedt on May 1.

The surrender occurred on a road east of Kitzbuhel last night.

Mrs. Goering and their child also were taken.

All three appeared to be in good health.

The woman, the former Actress Emmy Sonnemann, cried frequently.

Paris, May 9—(AP)—Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and Field Marshal Albert Kesselring have been taken in custody of the U. S. Seventh army.

Ickes Meets With Operators - Miners

Washington, May 9—(AP)—Anthracite operators and miners were summoned to meet with Interior Secretary Ickes today to discuss stalemated contract negotiations which have halted hard coal mining.

Ickes, who as Solid Fuels Administrator is responsible for coal production, said yesterday he wanted to find out what has held up the contract talks. They have been under way in New York more than a month.

John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers have refused to accept a War Labor Board request for extension of the wage contract which expired April 30.

Ickes, in an interview yesterday, said he was depending on today's conference to determine his future action.

While neither he nor Attorney General Francis Biddle, also interviewed on the subject, would admit for publication that the Smith-Connally War Labor disputes act was impotent to deal with the situation, both indicated they saw no immediate prospect of using it to get coal production.

LICENSE SUSPENDED

Harrisburg, May 9—(AP)—The state liquor control board suspended the license of Mildred T. Jaynes, Oscar's Restaurant, Warren, for 20 days, effective May 31 for sales to visibly intoxicated persons; establishment conducted in a noisy and disorderly manner; permitted an employee to associate with patrons.

Vital Issues Still Facing Conference

BULLETIN

San Francisco, May 9—(AP)—Soviet Commissar V. M. Molotov left the United Nations conference today for Moscow, where negotiations for a broadened Warsaw government may be resumed.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic Editor

San Francisco, May 9—(AP)—The United States is seeking an agreement on control of lands seized in both World Wars which will allow the army and navy to set up bases at any point in the world considered vital to United States security.

The question involved—labeled here one of trusteeship of territory seized from the enemy, mandated after the first World War or incapable of self government—is still a point of controversy between

Pope Prays For A Peace on Equality

By GEORGE BRIA

Vatican City, May 9—(AP)—Pope Pius XII in an eight-minute broadcast marking the end of the European war said today that the continent now was faced "with gigantic problems and difficulties" and called on God to enlighten Allied leaders in bringing about a peace founded on the equality of all nations weak and strong.

"War has aroused everywhere discord, suspicion and hatred," the pontiff said. "If therefore the world wishes to regain peace it is necessary that falsehood and rancor should vanish and in their stead sovereign truth and charity should reign."

He said the speedy return home of war prisoners and interned civilians should be the "first element" in European reconstruction.

Voicing gratitude to God for the arrival of peace in Europe, he prayed, also, for the end of the war in the Far East "according to justice."

Nazi Flag Used As Bait for Customers

Wauconda, Ill., May 9—(AP)—When Douglas Crooks opened his candy shop on V-E day he placed on the floor of the shop a 13-foot long Nazi flag which he had received from a friend in Germany.

Customers were invited by Crooks to wipe their feet on the flag. "Business was good all day," Crooks said.

Japs Isolate Yank Unit At Davao City

By FRED HAMPSON

Manila, May 9—(AP)—Japanese troops, in their first show of strength on Mindanao since the April 17 invasion, penetrated American lines near captured Davao city and virtually isolated one Yank battalion, field dispatches reported today.

This battalion, which had seized the village of Mintal, two miles west of Davao City, was being reached by a few American reinforcements sent over a little-used trail, wrote Associated Press Correspondent Richard Bergholz.

Japanese artillery shelled American positions at Libby airfield, about one mile south of Mintal. The Yank hold on the airdrome was tenuous.

This was the first indication of a fight on Mindanao since Maj. Gen. Roscoe B. Woodruff's 24th

Six Minor U. S. Fleet Units Reported Lost

By ROBBIN COONS

Guam, May 9—(AP)—Twenty-six U.S. fleet units, ranking from ammunition ships to landing craft, have been sunk by Japanese aerial attacks during the Okinawa operation "but these losses have not slowed up the Pacific campaign," Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said today.

"I don't think the results they (the Japanese) are achieving compensate for the losses they are taking," the admiral told correspondents at a press conference. Some 3,000 enemy aircraft have been destroyed since start of the Ryukyus campaign March 18.

He destribed Okinawa as the largest and closest "rung in the island ladder approach to Japan." It is the most important objective American forces have attempted to take in the Pacific.

Nimitz held his press conference shortly after issuing today's communique reporting that navy planes sank or damaged 18 Japanese ships and smaller craft off Korea and Honshu and that army Mitchells damaged another off Honshu.

For a third straight day, battleships and cruisers heavily bombarded Japanese fortifications in the southern Okinawa line Tuesday and fired hundreds of illumin-

Tickets Going Fast For All-Star Bond Rally Show Monday

Though the first announcement of the coming All-Star Bond Rally for Warren county's 1500 volunteer workers made only Monday, hundreds had already applied for and received their complimentary admission tickets by noon today, and requests were still rolling in.

Byron Knapp, who is in active charge of all arrangements for this meeting, reported this morning that everything was worked out to the last detail, and it promises to be the most interesting and entertaining Bond Show ever held in this county. The doors of the Columbia Theatre will be open at 7:15 next Monday evening, and at that time the Warren High School band, under the direction of Harry Summers, will provide one of their famous concerts of patriotic music.

Mr Knapp warned that though tickets are needed for admission, there will be no reserved seats, so it will be wise to be there early as a rcord crowd is expected to be on hand when Bing Crosby, Betty Grable, Bob Hope, Frank Sinatra and a host of other equally top-rank Hollywood "greats" swing into their great new 7th War Loan picture at 7:45 p. m. Immediately following this, the assembled bond workers will see Barbara Britton, James Craig and Walter Abel starring in the soul-stirring "Freedom Comes High", a dramatic presentation of the typical American story of 1945 in the persons of Steve, a hard-hitting Destroyer skipper who torpedos a huge Jap aircraft carrier, and Ellen, Steve's heroic "navy wife".

The fast-moving program includes introductions of a group of Warren's own combat veterans briefly home from all parts of the world battle-fronts, by Chaplain E. K. Rogers who has himself only just returned from the thick of action in the European theatre.

Harry W. Conarro, local industrial lead r who has been active in all past bond drives, will explain the many new ideas which have been developed for this county's 7th War Loan campaign, and present the plans which leave no room for doubt that Warren County will raise the $1,800,000 needed to build and buy the three huge B-29 Super-Bombers which are our "quota" in the "Mighty Seventh".

Following the brief business session, there will be a special showing of one of the most terrific action pictures to come out of the Pacific war—the Navy's own true-life picture of the actual Battle of San Pietro, prepared especially for the 7th War Loan.

Quisling Is Incarcerated Is Oslo Jail

Oslo, Norway, May 9—(AP)—Vidkun Quisling, whose name became a synonym for treachery in this war, was taken to the Oslo jail today from his estate outside Oslo, and will be arraigned publicly in court some time this afternoon under Norwegian law.

The Norwegian Nazi chief, broken by the swift events which toppled his five-year grip on Norway, drove up to the Oslo police station in a bullet-proof car with six of his cabinet members.

While immediate arraignment is scheduled by law, some police officials said he might not be arraigned until tomorrow morning.

(Dispatches from Oslo yesterday said Quisling had been in his lavish suburban home "Gimle,"

PHILADELPHIA HAS NOISY DEMONSTRATION

Philadelphia, May 9—(AP)—Rain washed away the early celebrations yesterday in the downtown district of Philadelphia but light hearted citizens and service men and women rejoiced over the victory in Europe with dauble enthusiasm last night.

The entire Philadelphia police force of 4,750 was called out to direct traffic.

Although the crowds were noisy, they were sober since Governor Martin early in the day ordered all taprooms and private clubs closed.

Mayor Bernard Samuel of Philadelphia announced that the observance originally scheduled for the Sunday following V-E day has been postponed until Japan surrenders unconditionally.

Berlin Suburb Is Scene Of The Final Act of Surrender

By HAROLD KING
For The Combined Allied Press

Berlin, May 9—(AP)—The final act of military surrender of all Germany's armed forces to the Allied and Red Army high commands took place in the Berlin suburb of Karlshorst this morning at 12:16 a. m., Central European time (7:16 p. m. EWT, Tuesday).

With this act of solemn surrender, the recognized heads of the German army, the German navy and the luftwaffe acknowledged themselves os militarily beaten to their knees, and it will be difficult for postwar Germany to recreate a legend of the so-called "invincible army" being stabbed in the back.

The German commanders-in-chief who signed were, respectively, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Admiral Gen. Von Friedeburg, and Air Col. Gen. P. G. Stumpf.

The act was signed for the Allies by Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder on behalf of Gen. Eisenhower, and by Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov on behalf of the high command of the Red army. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, U. S. army, and Gen. Jean De Lattre De Tassigny, commander of the French First army, signed respectively as having witnessed the signing.

Kennedy Denies Committing Any Breach of Confidence

By the Associated Press

A message from the Paris bureau of the Associated Press today quoted Edward Kennedy, whose Reims dispatch Monday gave the first eye-witness account of the German surrender, as saying that "it is completely incorrect to say that he has admitted any breach of confidence."

The message, from Relman Morin of the Paris staff to Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, continued: "He (Kennedy) says he did what he considered was his duty and is still of that opinion."

Kennedy, chief of the AP's Western Front Staff, under suspension by Supreme Headquarters as a result of his story, filed nearly 24 hours before the official announcement, still was unable to give his account of the affair directly. Morin's message quoted Kennedy as saying that a statement sent at 8 p. m. yesterday "contains all facts of the case and states his position." No such statement filed at that time has yet reached the AP in New York.

Supreme Headquarters in Paris announced that two other AP men besides Kennedy had been suspended. It said:

"War correspondents Erward Kennedy, Morton Gudebrod and Robert Bunnelle of the Associated Press have been suspended pending ions of SHAEF regulations."

Cooper last night urged on Gen. Eisenhower abolition of military censorship in Europe now that the war there has ended.

RACING BAN AND CURFEW LIFTED BY ODT

Immediate Suspension of Midnight Entertainment and Horse and Dog Track Announced

TRAVEL YET RESTRICTED

Washington, May 9—(AP)—Wartime controls over production, rationing and pricing will be continued until Japan is defeated, the administration said today, but "some reconversions will start immediately."

Highlights of the program, as outlined at a White House news conference by War Mobilizer Fred M. Vinson:

1. Immediate suspension of the ban on horse and dog racing, and lifting of the midnight entertainment curfew, effective tonight.

2. Release of enough materials and manpower, no longer needed for the Pacific war, to produce a few new automobiles within six to nine months.

3. Some prospect of an early increase in gasoline allowances for civilian motorists.

4. Vinson said he saw no indications of any early general improvement in the civilian food supply situation.

5. No general reduction in taxes until final victory is won.

On the civilian production front, Vinson said that generally speaking "materials and manpower no longer pre-empted for war will be freed for civilian production."

As to the armed forces, he said: "Prosecution of the war against Japan must take precedence over all considerations, but men and women who can be spared from the army will be demobilized." The navy does not plan to demobil-

SUSPENSION OF STATE STORES IS WITHDRAWN

Harrisburg, May 9—(AP)—State liquor stores and licensed liquor establishments re-opened today after a one-day suspension due to observance of victory in Europe.

Chairman Frederick T. Gelder, with approval of Governor Martin, lifted the suspension ordered by the governor's proclamation in requesting that end of the European war should be observed as "a day of prayer, thanksgiving and work" without jollification or celebration.

Gelder said observance with Martin's proclamation was "general and immediate" throughout the state.

Governor Has Bill Affecting Restaurants

Harrisburg, May 9—(AP)—The state health department will be authorized to establish uniform hygiene regulations for public eating and drinking places in Pennsylvania under legislation sent to Governor Martin by the legislature.

Dr. S. J. Dickey, health department epidemiologist, said the state will have 180 days in which to draft rules and regulations on sanitary conditions should the measure be signed into law by the governor.

Operators of restaurants and similar places would then have another 30 days to apply to state or local authorities for licenses.

Local health regulations for such establishments would not be affected under the new setup, explained Dickey, except in cases where state standards are higher than those fixed by municipal ordinances.

Licenses would cost $1 annually

Liberated People Cheer Eighth Army

By LYNN HEINZERLING

Spittal, Austria, May 9—(AP)—The British Eighth Army was spreading out in lower Carinthia today, cheered by thousands of liberated French, American, Russian, and British prisoners of war.

Cossacks of a German slave division were bivouacked in the green fields along the highway, with their thousands of horses and wagons. Many of the Cossacks had their wives and children with them.

British and American soldiers in a German hospital prison at Spittal greeted the first Allied soldiers almost hysterically.

In the prison camp were nearly 200 British officers and men and 38 Americans. They cheered as a jeep drew into the barbed wire enclosure.

Sugar Shortage To Become More Acute

Philadelphia, May 9—(AP)—An immediate shortage of sugar in the Philadelphia area is expected to grow more acute during the year, officials of sugar refineries here said today.

Needs of the armed forces and shipments to liberated countries in Europe were listed as among the reasons for a 30-day extension of the date for validation of the next sugar stamp by the OPA.

Most direct result of the shortage is expected to be felt in reduction of the city's ice cream quota, the officials said.

Bill Extending Draft Signed By President

Washington, May 9—(AP)—President Truman today signed legislation extending the Selective Service act as a "compelling necessity in the continuance of military operations against Japan."

The president said he signed the bill extending the military draft a year from May 15 (or until the war has ended on all fronts) with reluctance because he did not wish his action to be interpreted as expressing concurrence with a section of the legislation placing "added restrictions on the war and navy departments in their management of the fighting forces."

The measure, as passed by congress, prohibits the use of 18-year-olds in combat unless they have had at least six months of training. The president's statement:

"I am reluctantly giving my approval to this legislation. I do not wish this approval to be interpreted as expressing my concurrence in section 2 of the bill, which places added restrictions on the war and navy departments in their management of the fighting forces. I signed the legislation only because the immediate extension of the Selective Service act is of compelling necessity in the continuance of military operations against Japan."

The war and navy departments opposed the restriction on use of 18-year-olds when the bill was before the house and senate.

Harrisburg, May 9—(AP)—State Selective Service today ordered Pennsylvania draft boards "to completely fill every call for men" until "the Jap is driven to his knees in unconditional surrender."

Declaring a "long, hard, expensive war" continues in the Pacific, Col. John McI. Smith, state director, wrote local boards:

"In recent months we have been falling down badly. In April only 71.7 per cent of our total call for men was inducted. Each one of us must take whatever action is necessary to correct this condition, and to deliver 100 per cent of the men called for."

CLOSING BLOOD BANK

THREE FRENCH U-BOAT BASES SURRENDERED

Prague Radio Says Russian Troops Have Entered City As Germans Continue Bombing

TERMS ARE RATIFIED

BULLETIN

London, May 9—(AP)—Premier-Marshal Stalin tonight announced the liberation of Prague.

The Czechoslovak capital was freed at 4 a. m. today by Marshal Ivan Konev's First Ukrainian army troops after a swift night aneuver by tanks and infantry striking from the north, Stalin said in a broadcast order of the day.

By ROMNEY WHEELER

London, May 9—(AP)—A station calling itself the Prague radio said today Russian troops had entered the Czechoslovak capital and that German planes bombed the city and three other points in the republic shortly afterward.

Hostilities in Europe officially ended at 12:01 a. m. battlefront time. At about the same time the Germans surrendered the three French Atlantic ports and u-boat bases of Lorient, St. Nazaire and La Rochelle. A French communique said they had been occupied. The only Germans remaining unsurrendered on French soil were some 12,000 at Dunkerque, the channel port through which the British Expeditionary force escaped in 1940.

About 79,000 Germans were believed to have yielded in the three surrendered ports—all important submarine bases when German undersea raiders threatened Allied victory.

Russians joyously proclaimed the unconditional surrender of Germans before dawn, 10 hours after President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill proclaimed V-E day following Germany's capitulation at Gen. Eisenhower's advanced headquarters at Reims in France early Monday. A formal ratification of the surrender took place in Berlin yesterday.

Actions such as the reported last gasps at Prague are outlawed under surrender edicts, and German participants may be treat-

Doughboys Join in Red Celebration

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, May 9—(AP)—Thousands of Russians swarmed through Red Square shouting "long live Stalin" and "hurrah for victory" as the Soviet capital turned out to the last man, woman and child today to celebrate the end of the European war.

In the center of the cheering, singing throng a group of American G.I.'s attached to the U. S. military mission in Moscow danced across the cobblestones with girls from the factories, which had shut down for the celebration.

Uri Levitan, a small dark man with a big voice, gave to 190,000,000 Russians today the momentous news that the war against Germany has ended in a crushing victory for the Soviet Union and her allies.

The immediate reaction to the stirring event was typically Slavic.

It was 1:10 a. m. when Levitan—star announcer for the Moscow radio and the man who has broadcast all of Premier Marshal Stalin's orders of the day—came on the air with the glad tidings.

European Capitals Embark On Second Day of Joymaking

By EDWARD J. DENNEHY

London, May 9—(AP)—Euoyant merrymakers in this British capital embarked today on their second V-E Day celebration, while parading Soviet citizens in the streets of Moscow held their first rejoicing over the tidings of peace.

There was frolicking in the streets of Paris, Brussels, Amsterdam, Copenhagen and other cities to which peace had come after long tribulation.

In Oslo, capital of Norway, armed German soldiers strolled about the streets watching the jubilant Norwegian celebrants.

Street fighting between Danish troops and former Nazi collaborators as well as Germans marred the celebration in Copenhagen.

The unrestrained Marathon celebration that started in Paris on Monday continued in unflagging fashion. Paris and London's nonstop observances set the pace for other European cities.

Cheering crowds at Buckingham Palace brought King George and Queen Elizabeth out to greet them at midnight for a seventh time. The Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret slipped out of the palace and, accompanied by guards and officers, mingled with the throng.

The mysterious wartime buildings on Hampstead Heath went up in flames, making the biggest V-Day bonfire of them all. They were largely a collection of imitation bungalows forming a fake village, built in 1941 and intended apparently as a decoy for German raiders.

The victory of the United Nations also was observed in some of Europe's neutral capitals.

In Lisbon, Portuguese Premier Dr. Antonio de Oliveira Salazar led the celebratio with a toast, "Let's welcome victory." The Swiss were happy over the advent of peace, but President Edward de Steiger cautioned his people "we cannot figure on normal times yet."

Allied flags—with the exception of Soviet Russia's—fluttered from buildings in Madrid, but there were no public demonstrations in the Spanish capital.

Hugh Ollson Is New Head Of Civic Club

On Monday night, the regular meeting of the North Warren Civic Club was held in the community house with an interesting program and election of officers for the coming year.

The Boy Scouts, Troop No. 13 of North Warren, had charge of the program, which consisted of the presentation of the charter to the Civic Club, which sponsors the troop. William Lightner, local council representative, presented he charter to Richard Loper, president of the Civic Club. Scout-Committee members Tom Atwell, Wilton Peterson, Harold Mader, Chris Pepke, Tony Rock, and Jack Reddecliff, in turn, were charged with the obligations of the troop. Scoutmaster Myron Jewell presented badges to members of the troop and gave a brief presentation speech.

The regular business meeting was followed by the election of officers for the 1945-46 session: President, Hugh Ollson; vice president, James Johnson; secretary-treasurer, Charles Hamilton; new member of community house board for three-year term, Richard Loper; retiring member of board, Boyd Sanden.

At the conclusion of the election, J. R. Reddecliff introduced Duane Wilder, Warren High School student, whose subject was "The San Francisco Conference and the Meaning of the Dumbarton Oaks Conference". His comments, coming at such a time, were doubly interesting since both conferences are being discussed at present.

Refreshments were served by the committee, climaxing an enjoyable evening.

Warren Group Forms Upper Allegheny River Association; Launch Plans for Convention

At a dinner meeting held at the American Legion home last evening a group of 26 industrial, professional and business men of Warren formed the Upper Allegheny River Improvement Association with the election of Ben Kinnear as president; Harold Putnam, vice president; Franklin R. Hoff, secretary; M. H. Deardorff, treasurer, and the following to comprise the executive committee with the officers: Harry A. Logan, William H. Wright, Arthur L. Chapman, Robert Kopf and Harry Conarro.

The organization followed the adoption of a resolution in which the aims and purposes of the association were outlined.

In opening the discussion Harry A. Logan, who presided, expressed appreciation for the hospitality of the Legion Post and the excellent dinner prepared and served by the Auxiliary. He explained that it was to be an impromptu meeting and urged a frank discussion of the project proposed.

He said the meeting was inspired by a series of events which included a recent visit to Warren of Congressman Leon H. Gavin, of this district, who presented a letter from the United States Engineers' Office at Pittsburgh requesting him to give them the names of such organizations of business concerns interested in the survey of the river from East Brady to Olean, N. Y., soon to be undertaken in compliance with provisions contained in the Omnibus River and Harbor Bill, approved March 2, 1945. At the time the representative suggested the formation of a group in Warren. It was stated that letters have been received from the Salamanca Board of Trade urging than an association be formed in Warren to cooperate with business interests there and at Olean, N. Y.

Mr. Logan stated that the Allegheny River Improvement Association many years ago was mainly responsible for the construction of dams as far as East Brady, but that it appeared since Lock No. 9, at that place had been completed, many of the more prominent members of the association seemed to have lost interest. He recalled that the late S. Y. Ramage, of Oil City, along with a few others, endeavored to carry on the objective of slack-watering the river to Olean and were responsible for the last survey made a number of years ago. He outlined the purposes of the meeting: First, to form an organization to promote interest in the Allegheny river valley; second to make the organization a point of contact for army engineers and third, to discuss plans for entertaining the annual meeting of the Allegheny River Improvement Association in Warren June 16th.

Mr. Logan spoke at length about the Kinzua dam, as projected, saying that he had been opposed to it since it was first mentioned, declaring that he could see no advantage in it and on the other hand recalled many disadvantages.

The second speaker was Harold Putnam who reviewed briefly the history of the Allegheny River Improvement Association. He said that it was only by organization that any section of the country benefits through the Omnibus Bill appropriations declaring "There is nothing we can go after that will return greater advantages to Warren."

Other speakers declared that industries of Warren need slack water transportation to be able to meet competition where such facilities are available.

S. L. Myer when called upon said "It is amusing for me to sit here and listen to the sudden awakening of Warren men to the advantages of water transportation. For a quarter of a century I have been trying to arouse the industries of this community to the disadvantages of rail transportation as operated under the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is a known fact that rail rates in the Mississippi valley are influenced by competition furnished by water transportation."

A motion to proceed with the organization of an association was followed with the selection of S. D. Blackman as temporary chairman, which was followed by the election as noted above. Harold Putnam moved the adoption of the resolution and was seconded by Harry Conarro and passed unanimously. The resolution follows:

That this group organize as the Upper Allegheny River Improvement Association with proper officers and committees, for the purpose of:

1. Cooperating with the United States Engineers in their survey scheduled for this area this year and presenting to them the desires of this group and community for the completion of the development of the Allegheny River for navigation to the Western terminal of the Genessee Canal near Olean, N. Y., at any public hearings they may hold.

2. Energetically working with and through the Allegheny River Improvement Association in their endeavor to complete the slackwater installations from East Brady to Olean.

3. Inviting the Allegheny River Improvement Association to hold its 1945 meeting in Warren on Saturday, June 16 and acting as their hosts on that occasion.

4. Meeting with and inviting the support of, any groups representing Salamanca, Olean, or other river communities which may be interested in completing the development of the Allegheny river as a navigable stream.

5. Opposing the construction of the proposed Pittsburgh water supply dam at Kinzua as a permanent obstruction to navigation on the River and acquainting the residents of this area with the advantages to be gained through the developing of the River for navigation as compared with the disadvantages which will accrue should the River be blocked with the contemplated water supply dam.

President Kinnear announced that an early meeting would be held by the executive committee when plans would be made for a membership campaign as well as for the forthcoming convention of the Allegheny River Association.

WEST HICKORY

West Hickory, May 7—Though plans are under way for the 7th Bond campaign and will soon have a flying start, mothers of boys in service staged an early bond sale Saturday at tannery in connection with the usual "bonuses"—the local tannery gives its employes, this includes all names of service men on their honor roll. The mothers which included Mrs. Carl Hannah, Sr., a "gold star" mother and Mrs. C. M. Howe, whose son is a German prisoner of war thinks it their patriotic duty to turn some of the bonus money into 7th Victory War bonds. No doubt most will find its way to help our Uncle Sam and some to spread cheer about town. All appreciate the tannery's management's generosity.

The same hard working committee of the other Bond Sales is in charge of the coming 7th War Bond Sale and has always gone over the top. Top it!

Ludlow Scouts to Contribute To "World Friendship" Fund

Boy members and adult leaders of the Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America living in Warren County and Ludlow will contribute to a "World Friendship Fund" to help reorganize Scouting in allied countries devastated by the war, it was announced today by B. W. Knapp, chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee of the council.

Each Cub, Scout and leader who believes in the idea of world Scout brotherhood will be given an opportunity to contribute personally whatever he wishes. In addition, Troops and Cub Packs will decide the method and extent of their participation.

The World Friendship Fund was launched by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America which has underwritten the cost of its promotion and administration.

In outlining the program to the local Boy Scout Council, Elbert K. Fretwell, Chief Scout Executive, wrote, "Through the fund we have the opportunity to make a still bigger contribution to world friendship. The Scouts in the ruined countries have few resources. They need cloth for uniforms, equipment, handbooks, and helping the reorganization of their Scout program."

He reported that Scout Associates of other lands are already helping to rebuild Scouting. Canada, he said, has printed Scout Handbooks in foreign languages through their "Chin Up Fund" and although many British Scouts lost their own hames they raised a fund to help brother Scouts in liberated lands.

Parents whose son was a former Boy Scout and who has given his life in the war may wish to contribute to the World Friendship Fund in his name so that the movement he enjoyed may continue to flourish and help promote peace throughout the world.

Scout Troops and Cub Packs may contribute from their Unit's Treasury or money earned, such as through the collection and sale of waste paper, still sorely needed in the war effort. Some Units plan special Scout entertainment to donate the proceeds. No sum has been suggested as a contribution. The World Friendship Fund will be a continuous project as long as the need exists.

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

Somehow it seems to us that the good people of Warren are engaged at almost regular intervals in the giving of clothing, food or money for some unfortunate. One of our earliest memories is a drive that was carried on at top speed for residents of Clarendon. Clarendon had a Fourth of July celebration and topped it off by burning darned near the whole town. So Warren folk got on the job with food and clothing. And at intervals ever since it seems to us that relief drives have been carried on in cycles. And everytime Warren folk have done nobly. . . . If you go into the Cozy Corner down at Grand Valley and the man in there remarks "It snowed 32 years ago today. About seven inches", don't dispute him. R. K. Thompson, of the Cozy Corner there, is past 70 years of age and for over 50 years has kept a weather diary in which weather conditions are jotted down with care and he sure knows his weather. . . . Back in the days when a vacant lot adjoined the Wendelboe building there was a little shack in which George Cotrell had a pop corn and peanut stand. Warren folks who enjoyed munching pop corn and crunching peanuts patronized his liberally and he garnered a loit of pennies, too, with his striped candy and the sticks for a nickel were not a bit bigger than those Cotrell used to sell for a penny. . .

And do you remember when they moved the old cemetery at East street and Fifth avenue and took the bodies over to Oakland? When many of the bodies were exhumed they presented a most lifelike appearance but as soon as the air hit them they crumbled into dust. Gosh how we kids hung around there to see the men at work. . . Ray Eckhart tells us that at his home he has a couple of camp chairs that the family used when they attended the medicine shows at Market and Seventh streets. That was the custom then to take along a chair and enjoy the sterling entertainment, songs, music and plays, comfortably seated on a camp chair. Streams of people all carrying chairs marched up to the show grounds where Oregon Charley held forth the virtues of Katonka which was manufactured over at Corry. . . . Remember the balloon ascensions at the celebrations when the balloon was inflated over at Main avenue on the river bank? They were real thrillers and the balloonists attired in tights did stunts on a trapeze as the big gas bag floated skyward. Once in a while one caught fire and burned which was a keen disappointment to the crowd.

Bet you remember when the Indians came to Warren in their long John boats and spent the day here, the squaws selling baskets and the braves getting filled with firewater. Then John Utter would help load the braves into the boats and the squaws would grab a long pole and throughout the night pole the boat up the river back to the reservation. . . . How about this time of the year the eddy in front of the Carver House would be filld with rafts. Many of them came out of the Conewango creek and were tied here into Alleghenies ready for the run to Pittsburgh. Some were of logs, some were of sawn lumber, and shingles were piled high on them. Jim King, Randall Geer, Charley Chase and other old time pilots guided the craft down stream. One of our recollections is a trip to Pittsburgh woth Jim King—sleeping in the shanty on the boat and dining lustily on sowbelly fried crisp and brown. The fat poured over boiled potatoes helped make the meal one that stuck to the ribs. Heavy fare, but the men on the rafts who manned the long sweeps worked hard. Usually some man

STERN WARNING FOR JAPAN

Germany's capitulation will release a tornado of military power against the remaining world enemy—Japan

Japan yesterday received stern warning from both President Truman and British Prime Minister Churchill of the storm which will rend her until she surrenders unconditionally. Mr. Truman, however, injected a significant note which is receiving wide attention. He held up to the Japanese people the advantages of capitulation, and concluded a statement to the press with this:

"It (unconditional surrender) means not prolonging the present agony and suffering of the Japanese in the vain hope of victory.

"Unconditional surrender does not mean the extermination or enslavement of the Japanese people."

Many congressmen looked on this statement as making it easier for the Japs to quit their suicide war. Some legislators also thought it lent support to rumors of Nipponese peace overtures.

Well, it's legitimate for us to consider the possibilities of an early surrender, if we do so cautiously. The Japanese leaders already know they're beaten, and on this basis the more moderate element might force a termination of the conflict as a matter of horse-sense.

However, we shall be foolish if we don't follow the lead of our high command, which may recognize this opportunity but most certainly doesn't accept it as a probability. We are going right ahead with all-out war, which among other things contemplates invasion of Japan.

The fall of Germany is a terrific blow to Japan. The London Daily Mail sums up the situation graphically thus: The Japanese leaders realize what their people are only just beginning to realize—that Germany has been the real outer defense of Japan, that the frontiers of Japan have been protected by the Rhine, that the death throes of the Third Reich are the first spasms of Japan's own death agony, and that Japan without Germany is in much the same unenviable position as a tortoise without its shell.

Burma has been the shield of Japan's position in southeast Asia. The loss of this bulwark may prove to be a strategic catastrophe since it uncovers all the Jap-held territory between the China border and Singapore. Malaya and French Indo-China also become vulnerable to Allied attack.

We soon shall see great developments in the Pacific war. One of the earliest will be intensification of the bombardment of the Mikado's home domains. Japan is on the verge of terrible punishment.

KEEP FLAG AT HALF-STAFF

The American flag, lowered to half-staff last month in memory of the late President Roosevelt, should continue to be thus displayed—notwithstanding victory in Europe.

This is the answer to persons who have called in to criticize the fact that flags have been fluttering from the top of poles in the borough the past few days.

Jonathan Daniels, White House press secretary clarifies the point in response to questions whether the flag could not now be raised to full staff in view of the president's Victory Day address.

He calls attention to the fact that the thirty-day period proclaimed by President Truman on Mr. Roosevelt's death and says that proclamation had a double meaning now in view of Mr. Truman's statement memorializing the thousands of Americans who died to make victory possible.

The thirty-day period of mourning will end May 14.

NO FORMAL V-E DAY PROCLAIMED

It is interesting to note in announcing victory in Europe, President Truman Tuesday carefully avoided any use of the popular term "V-E Day" and White House sources made it clear that for the United States no formal V-E Day was proclaimed.

Instead the president—in keeping with his announced wish that the European victory should not be made the occasion for unrestrained celebration — set aside next Sunday as "a day of prayer." This will be May 13, Mothers 'Day.

In view of the president's suggestions it appears that Warren's quiet celebration Monday was not "premature" as many prefer to call it, but, on the other hand, quite appropriate coming as it did, on the day that news of Germany's surrender was broadcast to the world tthrough the clever reporting of our own Edward Kennedy, chief of staff of The Associated Press in the European theatre.

Translations from documents concerning ancient India show that in 2,000 B. C. primitive soldiers went to war with equipment comparable to chemical warfare equipment—a "deathful weapon flaming with celestial fire," and a projectile "wrapped in smoke and flaming flashes speeding from the circled bow."

About 360 B. C. the Trojan king Aeneas made use of fire bombs consisting of pitch, tow, resinous wood and other inflammable substances.

Following the two-day sessions here, the Board will proceed to Pittsburgh, where hearings will be conducted in wage and dispute cases involving firms in that vicinity.

The Board is composed of representatives of industry, labor and for each group. Members of the the public, with equal voting power Board are selected by the respective groups among civic, industrial and organized labor leaders in the four-state area within the Board's jurisdiction.

Chairman Sylvester Garrett will preside at the sessions here, assisted by Vice Chairman Bert W. Levy, until recently Regional Attorney for the Board. Sitting as industry members will be J. W. Trauenicht, Superintendent of Labor Relations for the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., and Warren S. Burchinal, Director of Industrial Relations for the National Tube Co., both of Pittsburgh.

The labor members who will participate are Lionel D. Brodeur, pres., Phila. District and Tri-State District Councils of Metallic Lathers, AFL., and John P. Harrington, Representative, United Steelworkers of America, and Harry Block, Inter. Vice-Pres., United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, for the CIO.

"Members of the Third Regional War Labor Board are glad to have an opportunity to meet in this area." Chairman Garrett explained. "Visits of this nature are essential to the Board's effective operations.

"The hearings here will give the people of Erie and the surrounding communities a first-hand opportunity to see how the Board functions.

"At the same time, the Board members and representatives will be permitted to meet personally the business and organized labor leaders in this region.

The Board recognizes that Erie, because of the diversified nature of its industries and its strategic location, is one of the most important industrial communities in the war production.

"The Board will hear representatives of both the companies and labor in dispute and wage adjustment cases. Its decisions will be reached after both sides have presented statements of their position.

"Both the meetings of the Board and the Board's deliberations, are conducted in a thoroughly democratic manner, with majority-rule based on equal representation prevailing.

"The fact that the War Labor Board has succeeded in preventing serious interruptions in war production due to industrial disputes during the more than two years of its operations is an eloquent proof of the success of its democratic methods. This success is all the more important at this time, when the dictatorial method of settling such problems has so generally fallen."

Chapter 26

"ALL right, Hannah. Thank you. That's all for now. But you better stay around here today. I may want you again."

After the maid left the room Donohue finished a few hurried notes in his little book and got out his fingerprinting outfit. As he took Brenda's prints, he said:

"You must have heard the excitement going on in this room, Mrs. Blair. Especially if Miss Norman was screaming and shouting the way Hannah said she was."

"Hannah is right. I couldn't help but hear her. She and my husband were quarrelling but I got out of the apartment without their knowing I was here."

"Did Miss Norman threaten your husband?"

"She did. She said, 'I'll kill you if you don't come across—damn you.' There was more—but that I heard distinctly."

"Hmmm—" With this unilluminating exclamation he finished his fingerprinting and disappeared into the bathroom where Brenda heard him opening and closing cabinet doors—pushing things around—evidently taking more fingerprints.

Left alone in the living room Brenda felt the intolerable burden of the last few hours lightening a little. It was a relief to tell the officer of the quarrel here last night and to have Hannah's story absolutely corroborate all she said. Tom's death had left her shaken, stunned with the shock of his dying. Then Francine's horrible accusation had filled her world with fear and a new suspicion. Now all that was over. Donohue knew the truth and whatever happened he could not in any way involve her in Tom's death—

SUDDENLY she heard her name called in a sharp peremptory voice that shattered the silence of the room like the sharp crack of breaking glass. The Lieutenant was looking at her and she could tell by the hard, bright glitter of his eyes that something had happened.

"Mrs. Blair, do you know anything about your husband's actions the day following the robbery at Humbert's?" he demanded.

"No, Lieutenant, I do not. He spent the afternoon on Central Beach and in this apartment. The day of the robbery and the day after he came home suffering from too much sun. But all of that you know."

He looked at her sharply. "I hope you are telling the truth, Mrs. Blair," he said cryptically.

He walked over to the telephone but before he put out his hand to take up the receiver he turned quickly and continued in a level voice:

"I might as well tell you frankly, Mrs. Blair. I do not like your husband's death coming right on top of that robbery in your department at Humbert's." His words were menacing. Brenda stared at him.

"Are you crazy?" She barely whispered the words. But the sharp ears of the lieutenant caught them.

He shook his head slowly and his words were very deliberate.

"No, Mrs. Blair, I'm not crazy—I'm just getting and stating facts. There is a definite connection between your husband's death and the robbery in your department in the store. I'm convinced of that now. . . . Perhaps Francine Norman wasn't so cock-eyed after all."

He dialed a number. "Put the Coroner on, please." There was a pause, then he exclaimed:

"Oh, hello, John. This is Donohue. Last night Dr. Harrington filled out a death certificate for Thomas Blair. He stated in that certificate the cause of death was heart failure. I'm not satisfied. I want you to take over officially right away. There's no time to lose. There must be an autopsy this afternoon."

TOM BLAIR had been murdered. At six o'clock Donohue telephoned Christopher and told him the autopsy showed conclusively that death was due to an overdose of nitro-glycerine administered by "person or persons unknown."

"It could not be suicide," Donohue said before Christopher could ask the question. "A heart case like Blair who carried his kit of medicine with him all the time in case of an attack, would never in his senses take a terrific dose like that. They found enough to kill two men. I'm going right over to see Mrs. Blair."

"It must be wonderful to know all the answers all the time," Christopher thought grimly as he slammed down the receiver. "Some day that guy's going to ride to such a fall it may knock some brains into his thick head—now I must get to Brenda before he does—"

"There's an extra dollar in it for you," he shouted at the taxi driver as he stopped his car in the middle of Washington street—"If you make Croton place in five minutes. . . ."

"I don't want to get a ticket—" the man began. But something in Christopher's frowning preoccupation made him suddenly decide to drive instead of argue. . . . Christopher ran into the lobby a few minutes later to find to his intense relief that Donohue had not yet arrived. Then he was talking to Brenda—telling her in short, sharp sentences the news she had never expected to hear. Her white, stricken face showed him how great a shock it was to her.

"Listen, Brenda," Christopher concluded in a low, tense voice, "Donohue will be here any minute—when he questions you, be very careful. He won't tell you, but anything you say now, he'll use against you later if he can. . . .

Metzger - Wright Personnel Has 49th Birthday Dinner

In honor of its forty-ninth birthday the Metzger-Wright Company entertained its personnel to a dinner at the Marconi Outing Club.

In previous years this dinner has always presaged the annual Anniversary Sale, but as William H. Wright, President of the company explained, this year, as last year, the government has asked all stores to refrain from holding special events sales to stimulate buying, and so, it has given up its Anniversary Sale.

Mr. Wright spoke briefly of the happenings of the last year, and of the things that were to be looked forward to in the coming, especially in the immediate future, of the coming Seventh War Loan Drive, and stated that he hoped as good a showing would be made this year as in the past when in the Fifth War Loan Drive it topped all previous records by selling over $94,000 in Bonds. This year the quota has been set at $60,000 and he hoped that that figure could be doubled.

It was decided by the co-workers to send a cablegram with a message of goodwill to one of the absent members of the Honor Club, Sgt. Allan Johnson, serving somewhere in France. This message was read by Henry Holmlund who with William Lord had composed it.

At the head table sat the Honor Club membzers, in the order of their election. Those present were Mrs. Myrta Dalrymple, 1930, L. C. LeVan, 1932; Miss Clara Weidert, 1933; Miss Matilda Eckardt, 1935; Miss Ruth Woodin, 1939; Mrs. Katherine Blocher, 1941; Miss Elizabeth Anderson, 1943; Mrs. Margaret Wright, 1944 and Mrs. Leota Clark, 1944.

During the past year, the fourth break in the Honor Group was made, death taking Miss Harriett Booth, April 16, 1945. In 1945 three members had been taken, William Benson, Miss Emma Fehlman, and Mrs. Minnie H. Wright.

At this time, the new member of the Honor Club is chosen, everyone anxiously awaiting the name to be revealed as no one knows until that time who is to be honored. William Wright, in a few guarded words told of "his", or "her", many qualities that made her the choice of this year, then turned the revealing of the name over to L. C. LeVan, who after a few verses of poetry revealed her name to be Mrs. Martha Widing of the alteration department. After the Honor Club pin was pinned on Miss Widing by Leota Clark, honor club member of 1944, she took her place with the other members of the club.

At the close of the dinner, three marshalls were chosen to head the three teams who are to participate in the forthcoming Seventh War Bond Drive, they were Mrs. Pearl Johnson, Mrs. Rena Hansen, and Mrs. Mildred Carter, each chosing an equal number from those assembled, and each pledging to sell the most bonds during the drive. These teams will be heard from in detail at a later date.

Truman Nominee

Sam F. Wear, above, of Springfield, Mo., Democratic State Chairman, was nominated by President Truman to be U. S. District Attorney for the Missouri Western District. He replaces Maurice M. Chaplain Is Speaker For Lions Session

Chaplain E. K. Rogers gave a very interesting talk before the Lions Club on Tuesday, describing his experiences in the army for the past three years. This covered his entry into the service at Indiantown Gap and the campaigns in Africa, Sicily, France and Germany.

The speaker gave a very good description of the American soldier. He told of the average G. I. and also of the other types such as are found among civilians. Also he told of the sorrows, joys, likes, dislikes, etc., of the men. A very interesting and entertaining part of the talk was about the negro troops and their part in the camp life.

Capt. Rogers also told of his own work as chaplain and of removing the dead from the battlefield. Wherever possible he took pictures of historical and cultural interest. Another thing was his humorous description of dealing with the Arabs. This evidently required much time, patience, and, most of all, a great deal of shrewdness.

Guests present at the meeting were Dr. H. A. Rinard, Rev. Nore Gustafson, Paul Harrington, Clifford Johnson, Roy Krebs, F. R. Carlson, and W. H. Woods.

Approximately one-half of the households in the United States had home gardens in 1944.

Ray Shellin, home on short leave from Sampson, N. Y., were greeted by the council. Following the business session Archie Hunter showed movies and the committee served lunch.

A WORD OF CAUTION

FHA INSURED MORTGAGE FINANCING

To the Veteran who wishes to buy a home:—

You will soon be hearing of Section 505 of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act. That is, you will if, like a couple of million of your buddies, you've been thinking of owning your own home.

Briefly, that Section provides a fully guaranteed equity loan towards the purchase of a home. The amount is ample for a substantial down-payment—just the start you need. Then you'll want an FHA Insured Mortgage to finance the balance. These two loans add up to practically "fool-proof" financing for the Veteran.

What do we mean by "fool-proof"? Just this: that you will need the protection of an expert unbiased analysis of the entire home-purchase transaction, including an appraisal of value based on long-range view of the market. That you will need expert advice on the neighborhood, the site, the quality of construction, the workmanship.

The Federal Housing Administration does all that. And when FHA tells you that it will insure your mortgage, you can be fairly certain the risk is a good one. And there are other advantages in FHA financing. Reasonable interest rate. Moderate monthly payments, which include a portion of principal, interest, taxes and insurance.

When you are ready to discuss owning your own home, come in and let us help you arrange the necessary financing.

Ask for a copy of our booklet "Home Loans for Veterans". It explains how Veterans can borrow to buy, build or remodel homes.

May 12 Is Hospital Day

By Mullen Drug Co.

Perhaps there is a signficance in the fact that Hospital Day falls in the hopeful month of May.

It is a bright and cheerful time and hospital service stands for hope and cheer to the sick.

May 12 is a day to remember. It has been set aside as Hospital Day. Recognition of the fine, scientific service performed by our hospitals is more important now than ever.

We remember with extreme gratitude that all over the nation hospitals are doing a major job in caring for and restoring to health our returned wounded.

We must remember, too, that our "civilian front" still stands in need of special and expert care, afforded by our splendid institutions — the American Hospitals.

Installation and Initiation Ceremonies Highlight May BPW Dinner-Meeting

Newly elected officers of the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club were installed and members taken into the group this year were initiated in a program which followed the May dinner held at the YWCA activities building last evening.

After welcoming the visitors, President Louise Neily introduced Mrs. Helen Schluraff, of Erie, state treasurer and a past state president of BPW. Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town had a banjo and the group would take on a few snorts after the tie-up at night and then would spend some time in song. At Pittsburgh the boys always visited the Red Lion Inn and where Starl Rowlands with his grapevine twist was usually able to get a few extra dollars wrestling with a picked man from the crew of another raft.

When Warren took on airs and secured a paid fire department Fred Windsor was the first chief. How he did get to the fires with his white horse and his red buggy. What a sight that was. . . . We remember when the 10th Regiment returned to Pittsburgh after its service in the Philippines and a monument was dedicated to Col. Hawkins out in Schenley Park. We were working in Pittsburgh then and one of our proud moments came when Col. Fred Windsor at the head of the 16th Regiment rode up the hump past the old Pittsburgh Leader office. Swell looking old boy on a horse . . . And incidentally, we recall that Company I had been quartered in one of Kaufman's warehouses where molasses had been spilled on the floor. When the boys flung their blanket rolls all daubed with molasses over their shoulders it seemed every fly in Pittsburgh got the word, and as Company I moved up Fifth avenue swarms of flies followed them. The hot sun beating down kept the molasses nice and gooey and attractive to the buzzers.

School Groups' Music Week Concer Is Outstanding Work of Many Season

Warren school music organizations made a splendid contribution to the local observance of National Music Week in the concert presented before a good-sized audience in Beaty school gym last evening, the best, in the opinion of many patrons, that the groups have ever given.

Opening with the Star Spangled Banner, the first portion of the concert was given by the High School Orchestra, under the able direction of Harry Summers. "Voices of Spring" by Strauss provided a gay opening number, followed by a descriptive, "The Clock and the Dresden Figures" by Ketelbey, with Eleanor Peters, senior, as piano soloist. Very good woodwind work marked the "Pique Dame Overture" by Von Suppe and reeds and strings were outstanding in the merry "Pizzicato Polka' by Strauss.

Featured soloist in this portion of the program was Nick Geracimos, violinist, whose first movement of the Viotti Concerto No. 3 in G Major was received with such enthusiasm that he was obliged to return for an encore, playing Rubinoff's arrangement of the popular "Stardust" by Hoagy Carmichael. In a more serious vein than usual, he displayed an excellent tone and command of the instrument that brought well deserved commendation. Adelaide Swanson played his piano accompaniment.

In the second section, Miss Twila Hoover presented and accompanied the Beaty Octet for four numbers, sung informally about the piano. Best selection of this group, composed of Wayne Furman, JoAnn Finley, Joan McDonald, Ann Livingston, Blaine Lauffer, Elwyn Babcock, Gail Nelson and Calvin Olson, was "Massa Dear", sung to the tune of Dvorak's "Going Home" from the New World Symphony. Their other selections were "Swanee River" by Foster, Prayer from "Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdink and "How Can I Leave Thee", by an old folk tune.

Second Band members appeared under Mr. Summer's direction for two numbers surprisingly well done for young and little-experienced musicians. Good reed and baritone work was in evidence in both the "Normal March" and "Ambition Overture" by Bennett.

Dorothy Bohren and Elizabeth Dunham had thoroughly memorized their flute duet, "Crimson Blushes" by Lester, very well played and accompanied by Mr. Summers.

Concluding the instrumental groups, the Second Band played "First Division March" by Buchtel, "Gavotte" by Thomas and Bennett's "Activity March".

The remainder of the program was devoted to a patriotic presentation, "The Call to Freedom" by Victor Herbert, a work requiring imagination, ability and a careful preparation that carned for Mi Twila Hoover and the a cappel choir the spontaneous and pr longed applause of the crow Deeply stirring and accented fine soprano solo work by Lilli Ristau and two-piano accompan ment by Maxine Beebe and Ele nor Peters, the number was ea ily the most ambitious undertal ing the choir has ever attempte and one which fully merited ever compliment paid the singers a their coach.

Another innovation for t evening was the presence of School Music Boosters Club cor of ushers composed of Hen Blick, Basil White, Creed Eric son, Clayton Kyler, William Ta lor and L. N. Schuler.

GROWTH AND DECLINE OF HITLER'S EMPIRE

Area included within the heavy black outline on the map above, taking in most of Europe and part of northern Africa, is Hitler's empire of conquest at its highest tide. Beginning of the ebb is symbolized by the Battle of Stalingrad, whose loss is considered by many to be the turning point in the Fuehrer's fortunes

Teachers of the school had arranged for drums and flags at the school ready for use when the good news came.

Forgers Predict the Best Year In Local Baseball History; Buffalo Giants Here May 20

There remain but 11 days before baseball officially is removed from the closet and brought out for its first public airing by way of Wilder Field, that is, providing ol' Jupe Pluvius will give the sport enough of a break for its opening day meeting between the National Forge and Ordinance team and the strong Buffalo Colored Giants.

The future of Warren baseball was outlined briefly and strongly by Manager Emmy Morrison, who hopes to pilot the irvine crew to another successful season. "I will guarantee the best schedule in either Forge or Warren diamond history." And to you fans who know Emmy Morrison and his ability to pick out the top-notchers, you can lay adds that this statement will come true.

"That is, of course," continued Morrison, "if the crowds permit me. They must support us. We are not to be expected to defeat all these teams because they are leading teams in semi-pro circles. We will probably win our share."

Most of the Forge faces will be familiar ones to the loyal fans, but there are several new additions which will be announced later. The old standbys, Morrison, Harry Rosequist, Nick Creola, Joe Massa, Andy Natale, Mike Solock, Diz Hines, Fred Gagliardi, Dick Giegerich and "Peeley" McKinney, along with Otto Peterson, will be out there again this year.

There will be games each Sunday afternoon at Wilder Field, beginning at three o'clock. Additionbleachers have been installed, the playing field greatly improved, and new dugouts added.

Opening card of the year opens May 20, with the Buffalo Colored Giants providing the opposition. The Giants performed in Warren twice last season, bringing outstanding comment from the baseball public. The Forgers nipped the Giants in their appearance at Wilder Field.

Veteran Nick Creola is booking some of the top teams in this sector, reaching extensively into the Pittsburgh area where some of the finest ballplayers are located.

St. Louis Greets the Senators Like Long-Lost Brothers; Indians Down Chicago, 7 to 1

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

St. Louis greeted the eastern visitors like long lost brothers today after the overdue Browns rocked Washington, 7-1, in the first intersectional tilt of the season.

It was against the brethren from the Atlantic seaboard that Luke Sewell's 1944 "Cinderella Gang" clinched the American League flag a year ago and Sportsman's Park customers were hoping the new edition could pull out of the second division in the long home stand ahead.

Nelson Potter, the ace in the hole who was the "stopper" for the Brownies last season, turned in his first job of the season with a brilliant three-hitter.

It could very well have been a one-hitter for George Case's leadoff single in the first was the only safety until Rick Ferrell opened the ninth with another one-baser. Pinch hitter Joe Ventura followed with another blow, also a single, but Potter was safe in the clover with his second victory.

Rookie outfielder Boris Martin, counted heavily in Sewell's winter plans off his .350 season in Toledo, finally began to come through with a single, double and triple off Johnny Niggeling and reliefer Al Carrasquel.

Red Embree, another promising freshman who had failed to hit the win circle, finally made it in pitching Cleveland to a 7-1 decision over the league-leading Chicago White Sox.

The Baltimore grad with the blazing fireball had impressed despite two tough defeats by Detroit but showed plenty of stuff yesterday in beating Orval Grove.

Felix MacKiewicz, another Oriole product, belted a two run round tripper that started Grove to his doom.

Cincinnati's night tilt with the New York Giants was washed out but rescheduled for tonight and Skipper Bill McKechnie announced he was benching shortstop Kermit Wahl for Walt Flagler, up from Birmingham.

Philadelphia, St. Louis, and Boston took advantage of the off day to plug lineup gaps. The Phils sent outfielder Buster Adams back to the Cards again for two infielders, shortstop Glenn Crawford and third baseman John Antonelli, thus apparently forecasting the removal of Jimmy Foxx and Wes Hamner from the lineup. The Braves acquired veteran lefthander Bob Logan from Indianapolis for pitcher Ben Cardoni, infielder Ben Geraghty and two others to be named later.

ATTENTION, BOWLERS

All men who are bowling with Dykes Dairy, Texas Lunch, Marconi Club and Fadale's Amusement Center are requested to be at the Penn Bowling Center Thursday evening at 7 o'clock for a few practice games before going to Bradford on Sunday to take part in the tournament there.

Behind the Lines

The bulk of the veteran major league hurlers are in for banner seasons if results continue to follow the course of the first three weeks of play. Such moundsmen as Mort Cooper, Hal Newhouser, Dizzy Trout, Al Benton, Jack Kramer, Hank Borowy, Bill Voisile, "Rip" Sewell and the like, have turned in several masterful exhibitions to date and with a bit of luck three or four of this group may reach or exceed the 25-game victory mark. With so many of the name hitters in both leagues now in service, pitching is far overshadowing the batting and the the same trend should continue until the day when the DiMaggios, William Musials and the like return. In pre-war days the slobmen had to bear down on every man in the lineup, which naturally meant the pressure was bound to catch up with the best of hurlers on their off days. As matters are today, the pitchers can afford to let up now and then, knowing few if any of the clubs have more than one or two dangerous sluggers.

Now that the weather has ceded to sport, things will start to roll. Beginning with next Monday night, the YMCA-Church loop opens its campaign, following with games on Wednesday and Friday. On Sunday, May 20, the National Forge opens its season, with forecasts predicting a fine season. Since Struthers Wells has canceled its 1945 diamond plans, baseball followers must resort to Wilder Field, which can, by no means, be termed sad news. Looking at another angle, we have a job to do by keeping the sport alive—so that when the fighting men return they can step in where they left off. But you should have no dissentions because the Forge is the only team operating this year, because it equals, if not betters any team in the section.

Baseball's most famous players of the past would represent more than busts in the Hall-of-Fame at Cooperstown in postwar blueprints of the Semi-Pro Congress. Ray DuMont is confident his idea would result in a record number of sandlot clubs. Among the post-war problems, stresses the progressive and stunt-loving president of the Congress, will be reviving town baseball, which has suffered badly since Pearl Harbor. The Wichita, Kansas boss of the bushers points out that only ten percent of the town teams of the prewar era are on the field this spring, which is not altogether offset by the increase in clubs representing industrial and service ranks.

DuMont's scheme is to enlist at least 24 stickouts of the glorious past, big names like Babe Ruth, Honus Wagner, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, George Sisler, Rogers Hornsby, Chief Bender and Dizzy Dean. He would zone the country, have each visit every hamlet and town in his assigned territory. They would be paid, and in the fall would be at the disposal of sports writers and radio stations while speaking at various functions.

BOB MONTGOMERY UPSET

Los Angeles, May 9—(AP)—Nick Moran, Mexican Welterweight, scored a stunning upset over Cpl. Bob Montgomery, recognized in New York as the world lightweight champion, by winning a decision in 10 rounds at Olympic Auditorium last night.

Phils Acquire 2 Infielders; Badly Needed

Philadelphia, May 9—(AP)—Acquisition of two experienced and vitally needed infielders brought only short lived pleasure to the Phillies camp.

Manager Fred Fitzsimmons said last night that "Jimmy Foxx is in bed under doctor's orders for at least 48 hours. We don't know what's wrong with him, but his baby just got over pneumonia."

Fitzsimmons said he expects Third Baseman John Antonelli and Shortstop Glenn Crawford, acquired yesterday from the St. Louis Cardinals in a trade for Buster Adams, hard-hitting Phil outfielder, "to be in uniform" for the opener today of a three-game series with the Chicago Cubs.

"I was counting on moving Foxx to first base and putting Jimmy Wasdell in Adam's place," Fitzsimmons said sadly.

The Phil mentor said he now plans to keep Wasdell at first and to use Coaker Triplett in the outfield until Foxx has recovered. Triplett clouted a home run with two on in a pinch hit role against the Brooklyn Dodgers Sunday.

General Manager Herb Pennock said the addition of the two former infielders for Columbus in the American Association "is going to be a tremendous help."

The jittery Phil infield made seven misplays in a double bill with the Brooks Sunday. Pennock said the major cause for the Phils' failure to get started this season —they have won only three of their first 16 games—is "inexperience in the infield."

"Both Crawford and Antonelli have had experience in Double A baseball," Pennock said. "They're experienced players and we fell sure they're going to be what we need."

Uncle Sam's Best Friends Are His Mothers

No question about it, essential war worker Number One is Mother. What a day . . . every day! All of the chores of peacetime and more —stretching ration points and still keeping the family well nourished . . . preparing bandages . . . salvaging paper, cans and fats . . . budgeting for War Bonds and holding onto them . . . tending her Victory Garden and preserving its surplus . . . ending a long day by writing morale-building V-Mail.

We've all made an important discovery in the last three years—that our nation is one big family whose every member is essential to our country's will to win. There's a new understanding of the other fellow's problems . . . a new appreciation of our individual ability and resourcefulness. We've seen with pride what our younger generation can accomplish . . . and we're determined to safeguard their right to opportunity in the land they call Home.

The women of America have proved their resourcefulness in the kitchen in countless ways. Many have discovered that a glass of cold, golden Budweiser makes their simple wartime meals taste better.

Youngsville Man Suicides By Drowning

James Reynolds, 60, resident of Youngsville for many years, committed suicide by jumping from the bridge spanning Brokenstraw creek at Youngsville shortly after ten o'clock this morning, according to a report made to the coroner's office.

Chief Frank Dunkle stated that Reynolds had made an earlier attempt to jump into the stream but was restrained by bystanders. Soon after the fatal plunge the body was recovered a short distance below the bridge by Wilbur Anthony and artificial respiration was applied without avail and a Youngsville physician pronounced him dead. The remains were removtd to the Young funeral home.

The officials were told that Mr. Reynolds had been despondent and had been under treatment for a mental disturbance.

His wife and one daughter survive. Plans for the funeral have not been completed.

ment quoted Goering as saying he had been sentenced to death April 24 for suggesting that he take over leadership of the Reich from Hitler.

Goering's wife and child were taken into custody with him.

Kesselring was the last German commander in chief on the western front. He was shifted from Italy to succeed Field Marshal von Rundstedt, captured earlier by the Seventh army.

The corpulent 51-year-old Goering is the self-styled "most faithful paladin of the fuehrer" and had been designated by Hitler as his successor. But that was before the Reichsmarshal fell from favor in the closing months of Nazi Germany. He is one of the world's greatest collectors of medals, uniforms and art—the latter largely pilfered from countries which Germany overran.

Among other things, he was Prussian prime minister, minister of aviation, president of the reichstag, minister of forestation, Reich's master of the hunt, director of the Prussian state theatres and opera, president of the German academy of aviation, director over foreign exchange and raw materials and plenipotentiary in charge of the four-year plan.

His arrested wife was the blond, blueeyed former actress, Emmy Sonnenman who in earlier days was Hitler's leading hostess.

Maj. Gen. Clarence Martin's 31st Division was moving up central Mindanao, headed for the enemy's air center at Valencia.

On Tarkan island, off Borneo, Australian and Dutch troops expanded their holdings north and east of Tarakan city and captured a hurriedly-evacuated Japanese headquarters.

Racing Ban And Curfew Lifted By ODT

ize until Japan has been defeated, he added.

"The set-up will be just the same as before the ban," an ODT official said.

This means that race tracks will be expected to cooperate in keeping such major events as the Kentucky derby on a "trolley-car" basis, with no special trains or extra equipment authorized.

The agency said special trains could not be authorized because of the general transportation system. Because of the re-deployment of troops from Europe to the war in Asia, ODT predicts that the travel situation in the next 12 to 15 months will be the most critical so far.

Today's action means that racing's "triple crown" — the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes—will be run this spring and summer.

The derby probably will be held June 2 or 9 with the Preakness the next Saturday and the Belmont stakes two weeks later.

Racing people were prepared for Vinson's "immediate" removal of the prohibition. One problem remained. Racing officials said that easing of the War Manpower Commission's ceiling on employment will be needed in order to operate the tracks properly.

Vinson's announcement restored to a nearly normal position the one sport that had been completely shut down in wartime.

Washington, May 9—(AP)—Immediate lifting of the midnight entertainment curfew and the ban on horse and dog racing was announced today.

Fred M. Vinson director of War Mobilization and Reconversion, said that the action was effective as of today and quipped:

"The curfew shall not ring tonight."

He told a news conference that the lifting of the ban on race meets did not affect restrictions of the Office of Defense Transportation on the shipment of race horses, and referred inquiries respecting these restrictions to ODT officials.

At ODT, it was stated that the lifting of the racing ban will be followed by an order from ODT permitting the shipment of horses, but it was emphasized that travel restrictions in effect prior to the ban will continue.

Wilmington, Del., May 9—(AP)—Delaware park will run its traditional racing dates from May 29 to July 4, with a one-day shutdown "as a neighborly gesture" when the Preakness is run at Pimlico, General Manager Bryan Field announced today as the ban on horse racing was lifted.

Vital Issues Still Facing Conference

the Big-Five powers. It is one of the two most critical issues remaining before the United Nations conference upon the departure today of Soviet Commissar V. M. Molotov.

The other issue is how to dovetail the Pan-American security system, recently worked out at Mexico City, into the security council of the proposed world organization.

The American delegation is sharply divided on this question at the moment. Some members favor giving the Pan-American set up no special treatment, but strong opinion appears to be developing for a proposal that the council be given supreme authority over the Pan-American system, but be instructed to delegate to it the power to enforce peace in strictly regional disputes in this hemisphere.

President Truman may have to make the final decision.

Molotov, whose two weeks stay here has been marked by several stormy sessions over Poland, the White Russia and the Ukraine, and Argentina, leaves the conference in an atmosphere of big-power harmony that few would have been willing to forecast within a few days ago. The Soviet ambassador to Washington, Andrei Gromyko, takes over chairmanship of the Russian delegation.

Three French U-Boat Bases Surrendered

ed as francs-tireurs—subject to summary execution.

The final humiliation was delivered yesterday to the Nazi regime. No more striking evidence of the totality of German defeat could have been conceived than the ceremony amid the wreckage of Berlin, where the surrender was ratified.

There Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German general staff, and his aides met with Allied and Russian representatives —Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder for Britain, Gen. Carl Spaatz for the United States, Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov for Soviet Russia and Gen. de Tassigny for the French.

These Allied military leaders were victors in the fullest sense. Tedder served as Gen. Eisenhower's deputy; Spaatz directed the U. S. strategic air forces in the blows which paralyzed German industry; Zhukov marched his victorious First White Russian Army across Poland and into Berlin; de Tassigny led the French First Army across the Rhine and deep into the Reich.

Under the terms of surrender, remnants of the German luftwaffe, the once-feared Nazi air force; all arms and ammunition, all armor and self-propelled guns; all artillery and other weapons; all trucks and military equipment, must be accounted for and surrendered to local Allied commanders or designated military representatives of the victorious powers.

On the high seas, Germany's U-boat fleet, with which Hitler once hoped to win the war, was ordered to surface and wait orders to proceed individually to port.

All armies and holdout garrisons in Norway, in the Atlantic ports, in the channel islands, in Czechoslovakia, in Austria, on the Vistula estuary and in Latvia were under orders of the German high command to cease firing and to surrender unconditionally to the western Allies and to Russia.

No Immediate Plunge Into Reconversion

Washington, May 9—(AP)—The government began to show signs of hesitancy today at plunging into the reconversion swim.

Involved are two main factors: Manpower and metals.

Paul V. McNutt notified the War Manpower Commission's labor or management committee he might have to ask its support for a revival of manpower legislation.

A committee member who requested anonymity quoted the WMC chairman as stating that compulsory labor controls might be needed to halt a possible shift of war workers to peacetime jobs.

Some members informed McNutt at yesterday's closed meeting they did not regard the situation that seriously and would not support legislation if it comes to life again in congress.

The senate last month defeated a measure that would have permitted the administration to freeze workers to war jobs and place limits on the number of workers plants could have.

Similar worries troubled the war production board, but its problems appeared likely of solution by higher authority—Director Fred M. Vinson of the Office of War Mobilization and reconversion. Vinson called a news conference to outline his economic and reconversion plans.

WPB—although it wasted no time in freeing the aircraft industry to build commercial airliners—began to back water on its program for relaxing controls over the war metals, aluminum, copper and steel.

WPB thinking has changed three times in about as many weeks. Now the view predominates that the "starved" basic industries—including railroads, farm machinery, utilities, and truck and bus operations—should be protected from any wild civilian scramble for materials.

Local Agencies to Have Part In Giving Aid to War Veterans

With the close of the war in Europe and with the homecoming of men who saw service in the European area, the local USES office and the Veterans Service Bureau face some busy days. Manager David Levine of the USES has during the past few months taken some extensive training for the placement of veterans in jobs and also in their rehabilitation. Various employes of his office have also had much training. Joseph Benson, of the Veterans Service Bureau office in the Warren Bank and Trust Company building, has also been given much instruction in the administration of veterans' affairs. Returning men will do well to contact these local agencies.

In this connection it is of interest to note that the Pennsylvania legislature at the session just closed approved many measures for theaid of servicemen. The primary date was advanced for the benefit of the men at war and there are many other measures that will give benefits to the men as they return.

Governor Martin has signed an amendment to the state banking and building loan codes to allow loans up to $10,000 to veterans to purchase homes or go into business.

A compensation bill on the governor's desk would encourage employment of handicapped persons, especially disabled war veterans, by providing compensation for second injury cases.

The measure authorizes the state, in cases where a previously disabled worker is injured in an industrial accident, to pay the difference between first and second injury benefits.

Other legislation approved to help members of military service would:

Permit minors 17 years of age or over to contract for loans made available to veterans under the G. I. bill of rights.

Enable state teachers colleges, with approval of state department of public instruction and the governor, to cooperate with municipal, state or federal agencies in vocational and rehabilitation programs.

Exempt Pennsylvanians now serving in the armed forces from payment of the resident hunter's license and exempt veterans in Pennsylvania hospitals and convalescent camps from payment of the fishing license fee for duration of the war.

Permit returning veterans to make application for renewal of old driver's licenses within one year after honorable discharge.

Authorize county recorders of deeds to register honorable discharge papers of women members of the armed forces as well as male members, and extend to service women provisions requiring counties to contribute to funeral expenses and cost of headstones of deceased military personnel.

Authorize counties to issue free of charge copies of marriage, birth or death certificates of a veteran to a dependent when needed to establish a claim for a death benefit or a compensation allowance.

"Dear Sisters, Press Onward..."*

The Uplifters and the Pressonwarders were with us in 1896, even more than in 1945. Causes were numerous, and the Dear Sisters of that day were determined to smash iniquity without further ado. The descendants of these doughty warriors, our own generation, having lived through two destructive wars, are perhaps a little more modest in their crusading aspirations; and the Carrie Nations of 1945 use a little subtler methods.

Happily even our grandmothers, bless 'em, did not spend all their time chasing the devil around the stump and smelling their husband's breath. There were gay garden parties with little tables spread on the lawn, and swaying paper lanterns. There was the sound of merry laughter, and through the dusk floated perhaps the strains of a Barcarolle from the pianola. Our grandfathers were debonair fellows with curly locks (if possible) and very high, stiff collars. Their wives and their sweethearts wore organdy and lace, and dainty little shoes.

This store, in 1896, was the headquarters for the fashionable Godey's Ladies of northwestern Pennsylvania. "Ready-to-wear," as we know it today, was as yet in the future. Warren's stylish dames employed a dressmaker and, with her, planned and designed the wardrobe for all the females of the family. Then, the visit to "Metzger's." The minutes lengthening into hours, as fine fabrics were examined and compared, matched and harmonized, taken to the door to make sure of the color under daylight; as the yardage was estimated (and were there yards!); as the final dramatic moment arrived when the saleswoman's scissors slid sibilantly through the whispering silk.

Then, the trimmings! The edgings, the ruchings, the embroidery, the lace, the scallops, the buttons, the frogs, the hooks and eyes, the ribbon, the thread, the needles — the dozens of other "findings" from the Notions Department! Those were the days, indeed! The days when the making of a costume was the event of the season! And the wearing of it was pure bliss!

The day of the Elegant Dressmaker has slipped fragrantly away. Fashions, and modes, habits and ideas, have changed. And Metzger-Wright's, for forty-nine years, has been changing with them; accepting the new promptly; discarding the old without resentment; trying, always, to serve the women of this area in an authoritative way; to maintain fashion leadership and quality standards. Most of our grandmothers came to this store as naturally as 'going uptown.' Most of their granddaughters still do.

We have been grateful for that confidence. We shall try to continue, as we enter our Fiftieth Year, to deserve it.

M.W. Metzger-Wright
